

The Leemstee is an atmospheric residence in a thatched farm in the unspoilt village of Eext.

The farmhouse was recently renovated with the 17th century cross beams becoming visible again.

The light streams through a roof window to the heart of the farmhouse in the new, original hall and bathrooms.

All walls are covered in loam stucco in warm earthy tones.

The region of Eext is ideally suited for the walking and cycling fans.

Within a range of ten kilometres there are many villages with open fields, heaths and woods.

The city of Groningen with its many museums, galleries and trendy shops is within easy reach.
